About CİMAM

CİMAM, International Committee for Museums and Collections of Modern Art, is an Affiliated Organization of İCOM.

CİMAM is an international forum of professional character for the discussion of theoretical, ethical and practical issues concerning the collection and exhibition of modern and contemporary art.

CİMAM Members are museum professionals, they include the directors and curators of museums or institutions qualifying as Museums as well as training and research institutions which are beneficial for the advancement of the modern and contemporary art museum community abiding by the İCOM Code of Ethics for Museums and CİMAM’s Principles of Deaccession.

In 2015 CİMAM reached 510 members from 74 different countries.

The Committee’s major objective is to develop cooperation and knowledge by identifying and responding to the needs and issues faced by modern and contemporary art institutions and professionals. CIMAM has generated reference codes such as the General Principles on Conditions of Deaccession from Modern and Contemporary Museum Collections, adopted in November 2009, and has promoted the Contemporary Art Museum Watch advocacy program concentrating on the different critical situations of contemporary art museums and collections in regions affected by world economical and political crises.

The first CIMAM Annual Conference took place on July 5th 1962 in The Hague. Since then the Committee has celebrated 46 conferences that have been held in over 30 different cities around the globe. CIMAM’s Annual Conference has become an important meeting point for contemporary art professionals and an essential resource for the collaboration between museums, visual art professionals, artists and other institutions concerned with modern and contemporary art.

CIMAM legal status

In June 2015 CIMAM signed a Memorandum of Understanding with ICOM to become an Affiliated Organization of the same organization and initiated the procedures towards its constitution as a non-profit association with an autonomous legal status based in Spain. An application was submitted to the Spanish National Register of Associations (May 2015). We expect the outcomes by the end of March 2016.

The main aim of this change in CIMAM’s legal status is to facilitate the daily operational management of the organization with key aspects such as being able to hire employees. This new platform will allow the professionalization of our management and it will also then be the possible for CIMAM to receive economic donations, in order to strengthen its long term sustainability.

Regarding the agreement signed between ICOM and CIMAM, they agree to co-operate with each other through their appointed bodies and ICOM welcomes CIMAM’s new status as an Affiliated Organization, abiding by the rules and regulations established by ICOM. The latter has granted the right to CIMAM to use the name and trademark “CIMAM” registered and owned by ICOM for a period of two years.

CIMAM Board Members

Every 3 years CIMAM Members vote for their representatives at the General Assembly and constitute the Board of Members. Nominations for the Board Elections can be made by any eligible CIMAM Voting Member. The Board of Members votes for the President and Secretary–Treasurer for the triennial period and constitutes the internal working groups responsible for the different affairs of the organization.

The Members of the Board of CIMAM are in constant contact throughout the year through e-mail conversations that are coordinated by the executive team of CIMAM. They review new membership applications, advocacy issues as well as funding opportunities and suggestions to invite new Patrons to contribute to the Committee’s activities.

The Board also meets at least twice a year for board meetings where the affairs of CIMAM, the account of Members and the financial statements are presented by the President and the Secretary-Treasurer to the board members.
The Board is also encouraged to attend the Annual Conference each year and to actively participate by leading the different workshop groups proposed every year.

The members of the Board of CİMAM work on a volunteer basis throughout the year.

The President and the Secretary-Treasurer are the most active board members. They oversee the every day operations and carry out the projects of CİMAM.

The total estimated volunteer time spent by the President and the Secretary-Treasurer on CİMAM issues in 2015 was 420 hrs/each.

The average time the Board Members spent on CİMAM issues in 2015 was of 160 hrs/each.

The total volunteer hours dedicated to CİMAM in 2015 by the Board of Members has been of 3,240 hrs.

The Board in 2015

In November 2015, at the conclusion of the CİMAM Annual Conference in Tokyo the resignations of Charles Esche and Vasif Kortun as Board members of CİMAM were made public. Before the Conference they were invited to participate by Skype on the Board meeting of November 8th where they complied with the Board’s request to withhold the announcement of their decision until after the conclusion of the Conference. Abdellah Karroum also tendered his resignation as the Conference reached its end. Their reasons and motivations were communicated through the CİMAM web page.

In the discussions that followed, Kathy Halbreich and Ann Goldstein also tendered their resignations as members of the CİMAM Board, which is now composed by Madeleine Grynsztejn, Philipp Kaiser, Mami Kataoka, Kian Chow Kwok, Elizabeth Ann MacGregor, Frances Morris, Marcela Römer, Jaroslaw Suchan, Patricia Sloane as Secretary-Treasurer and myself as President. We deeply regretted and lamented each and every one these resignations and this unfortunate turn of events. In these exceptional conditions, the Board proposed the creation of an Executive Committee to undertake the task of developing the contents of the 2016 Conference to be held in Barcelona.

The current President and Board will concentrate on concluding the registration of CÎMAM as an independent association and ensuring the continuity of our relationship with ICOM. It is also a priority for the Board to deliver the institution’s governance to a new Board in Barcelona after the election process that will be implemented prior to the 2016 Annual Conference.

Supporting CIMAM

Thanks to the generous support of donors at all levels, CIMAM is at present the most relevant organization representing and advancing the professional interests of the modern and contemporary art museum sector. It is also a major source of information for art professionals from all over the world, providing opportunities for the exchange on international models of museological, curatorial and artistic practices, and for advancing the knowledge and understanding of the nature, functions and roles of contemporary art institutions as instruments of social and cultural growth.

How to contribute?

CIMAM offers its contributing members and sponsors an important international visibility. Overall value of visibility and recognition varies depending on the level of each contribution.

Members wishing to support CİMAM’s programs and activities beyond their membership dues can also make a donation.
CÎMAM Membership

In May 2015 the Board of CÎMAM revised the membership criteria for prospect individual and institutional members with the purpose to keep transparency towards the wide range of modern and contemporary art organizations wishing to join CÎMAM.

Individuals and institutions willing to join CÎMAM's membership program agree to ICOM Code of Ethics for Museums and CÎMAM's Principles of Deaccession.

Applications can be submitted at any time. Institutions and individuals do not need to be ICOM members to apply to CÎMAM membership. The members of the board of CÎMAM evaluate each application individually. All individual and institutional membership applications are subject to the final approval of the CÎMAM Board.

Membership is only effective after the application has been approved by the board, the corresponding invoice has been issued by CÎMAM offices and the payment for the current triennial instalment has been received. In order to keep membership current, CÎMAM Members are invited to renew their membership fees every triennial without having to apply again.

Check CÎMAM’s Membership Criteria at cimam.org.

How to apply?

Prospective individual members are invited to fill in a membership application form along with two references and a current CV. Applicants do not need to be ICOM members to become a CÎMAM Member.

Institutions willing to join CÎMAM’s membership program are required to be open to the public for more than 5 years, can prove a demonstrable governance structure within the definition of ICOM’s definition of Museum and to agree to ICOM’s Code of Ethics for Museums.
How much does it cost?
2014–2016 rates

CİMAM levies an affiliation fee that covers part of the publications, conference organization, travel grant programs and activities. The elected board of members 2014–2016 has approved the following rates for the incoming triennial.

Individual Member

CİMAM’s annual membership for the 2014–2016 period is €50/year (Reduced €30/year). It is paid in one settlement of €150 (Reduced €90) for the triennial 2014–2016.

Individual €150/triennial
Individual Reduced* €90/triennial

* Residents in countries listed as Emerging Market and Developing Economies according to the International Monetary Fund’s World Economic Outlook Report, benefit from 40% off regular membership fee.
Institutional Member

CİMAM’s institutional membership allows member institutions all the advantages of CİMAM’s membership at interesting rates. Institutions can choose the number of membership cards they wish to purchase for the professionals in the curatorial department of their institution nominated by the director to receive a CİMAM Membership card.

3 Cards → €405 / triennial

Contemporary Art Museum Watch

Contemporary Art Museum Watch is a series of newsletter publications initiated in January 2012, informing of the different critical situations of museums and collections in different countries and regions affected by world economical and political crises.

Contemporary Art Museum Watch 2015

 Call on the Saudi authorities to release Ashraf Fayadh and others detained in Saudi Arabia in violation of their right to freedom of expression.
 → CIMAM supports Walid Raad, Andrew Ross and Ashok Sukumaran after the recent ban on their entry to the UAE.
 → CIMAM supports Tania Bruguera.
 → CIMAM supports Hedwig Saxenhuber and Georg Schöllhammer, curators of Kiev's second biennale.
Free Admission Program

CÎMAM’s membership card allows free admission to over 100 modern and contemporary art institutions worldwide.

Since 2011 biennials also joined the program allowing free access to CÎMAM Members throughout the biennial, opening and preview days.

In 2015, 13 international contemporary art biennials from 13 different countries have participated in the program.

We are grateful to the institutions and biennials that, as a matter of professional courtesy, have agreed to join the program in 2015 and offer free admission to card carrying CÎMAM Members.

View the full list of participating institutions and biennials at cimam.org.
Touring Exhibitions Database

With the aim to enhance the collaboration among institutions and exchange of exhibitions, the board of members running CIMAM in 2009 approved the establishment of the online searchable directory of touring exhibitions.

The database is accessible to everyone at cimam.org and includes information about the participating artists, curators, institutions and dates of availability as well as images of the show. CIMAM Members can upload exhibitions by login into the website with their credentials.
How Global Can Museums Be?

Within this question lie very relevant issues and challenges for museums of modern and contemporary art as institutions dedicated to public service: locality, nationality, internationality, exhaustive universalism, decolonization, global democracy, and economic dependence, among others. The question does not only refer to the ambition of encompassing the entire world with all its differences; it interrogates if and how one single institutional model can be valid for the world’s diversity of contexts.

Is the Museum as we know it the most appropriate institution to transmit the concept of freedom of expression? Is the museum the entity most capable of rewriting and modifying Art History? What alternative models have been tested to be effective and useful agencies in different communities?
Is there a fixed protocol for the museum world that can be true and applied in global terms?

Differences in economies, (modern) development, industrialization, education, traditions, cultural and/or religious contexts create a very diverse global landscape for the making, presentation and reception of art. Beyond stylistic or material specificities, symbolic and factual/historical issues will necessarily determine how the messages produced by artists are received through time, space, and generations. Censorship, freedom of expression, institutional fragility, and responsibility are conditions and values constantly being rearticulated and questioned in the different contexts that compose our globe.

How can museums negotiate a radical, innovative position within cultural tolerance/sensitivity, within the dominating conventions of service to the public, or within the dichotomy of public interests/private resources? Evolving from previous Conferences, these are some of the questions we would like to address during the 2015 CİMAM Conference in Tokyo.

The Conference will break down these major questions into thematic areas of discussion around which the three daily sessions will rotate.

Is the museum still a place for debate?

Is freedom of expression up for debate within museums? Is it possible for museums to establish a universal deontological code, with a common set of values, rules or norms that are acceptable for all of us to envision an actual global exchange?

How does the concept of freedom of expression translate to different localities? Local laws or codes may determine how symbols are used and generate meaning. Taboos may not only be local but also time specific. Within this frame, is cultural specificity compatible with the notion of global homogenization or with a set of values that can be valid for all? How can we manage/negotiate the need to defend the universal notion of freedom of expression and the responsibility this freedom implies? Is institutional responsibility synonymous with self-censorship?
Over the last years, important questions have been raised for curators, artists, managers, sponsors, and audiences regarding freedom of expression, censorship, and institutional responsibility, with complex ethical, legal, and artistic implications. While recognizing significant local differences, these issues will be debated through the analysis of different typologies of events and cases in order to work towards a shared understanding of principles and common guidelines.

How has modernism been perceived globally?

What is the vocabulary we are using to write the histories of art occurring outside of the main centers of power? While the structure and influence of academia concurs with economic and political powers, we want to interrogate how the different parameters of historical significance are being established: with which vocabularies and chronologies are the “other histories” to be written? How has modernism been perceived in Asian regions such as China, Japan, Korea, or South and South East Asia?

In the 2014 Conference we became familiar with regions that only very recently started to play a role in the landscape of art, like the Middle East and the Gulf region. These are places with a tradition of making and receiving modern art that evolved without the gallery and museum system operating the West. Previous conferences have exposed us to more examples of alternative models for art institutions, when compared with Western definitions.

This evolving geography, within the digital era, is asking us to reconsider systems that have been implanted and operating until today, specially when we see that the Western “separation of powers” between the market, the museum, criticism, and the academia is disappearing. What are the alternatives to the historical model that have been built throughout the 20th Century? We propose to orient these questions towards the different Asian and other non-Western contexts.
Is there a global audience?

As the infrastructures of modern and contemporary art museums have been empowered by the economic/political interests of their respective regions, we are also facing an expanding diversity of audiences and civic subsystems connected to the museum model.

Yet the emphasis on visitor numbers as the ultimate criteria and measurement for the museum’s business performance and sustainable operation has paradoxically contributed to the museum’s ontological fragility.

The social media, a community in itself, has actively and rapidly become a tool of resistance. Their immediacy and impact beyond the museum space have opened new fronts that challenge the museum’s comfort zone.

We wish to continue exploring the notion of institutional autonomy. Beyond attendance quotas, museums do more and more to legitimize their performance by appealing to their anchorage in the local social, political, and cultural tissue.

There is a future for culture that is being played, negotiated or confronted between what is inside and what is outside of local or national communities. How will museums of modern and contemporary art engage with participative citizenship, as opposed to the notion of the spectator/visitor?
CIMAM’s 2015 Annual Conference (7–9 November 2015) was organized by CIMAM with the support of the Executive Committee of CIMAM 2015 Annual Conference Tokyo, the Agency for Cultural Affairs Japan, in collaboration with ICOM Japan, the Japanese Association of Museums and the Japanese Council of Art Museums. It was also hosted by the National Art Center, Tokyo and the Mori Art Museum.

A total of 260 delegates from 48 different countries attended CIMAM’s 2015 Annual Conference in Tokyo.

CIMAM offered 28 travel grants to modern and contemporary art museum and collection professionals residing in countries with Emerging Market and Developing Economies, professionals residing in Latin America and the Caribbean and South Korea thanks to the funds received from the Getty Foundation, the Fundación Cisneros/Colección Patricia Phelps de Cisneros and The Gwangju Biennale Foundation.

Two keynote speakers, twelve Perspective presentations and three panel discussions conformed the basis of a larger debate that took place among conference delegates regarding three main questions: Is the museum still a place for debate?, How has modernism been perceived globally?, and Is there a global audience?

Speakers included Brook Andrew, Artist and Lecturer, MADA (Monash Art, Design and Architecture), Monash University, Melbourne; Mariana Botey, Associate Professor Modern/Contemporary Latin American Art History, Visual Arts Department, University of California San Diego (UCSD), San Diego, USA/Mexico; Patricia Falquières, Professor, School for Advanced Studies in Social Sciences (EHESS), Chair of the National Center for Contemporary Art (CNAP), Paris; Shimegi Inaga, Professor, International Research Center for Japanese Studies (Nichibunken), Kyoto, Graduate University for Advanced Studies (Sokendai), Hayama; Bose Krishnamachari, President and Co-Founder, Kochi Biennale Foundation, Cochin, Kerala; Mika Kuraya, Chief Curator of the Department of Fine Art, The National Museum of Modern Art, Tokyo; Peggy Levitt, Professor and Chair of Sociology, Wellesley College and Harvard University, Boston, Massachusetts; Hammad Nasar, Head of Research and Programs, Asia Art Archive, Hong Kong; Jack Persekian, Director and Head Curator, The Palestinian Museum, Palestine; Georg Schöllhammer and Hedwig Saxenhuber, Co-curators of The School of Kyiv, Kyiv Biennal 2015, Independent Curators and Editors of Springerin Magazine, Vienna; Slavs and Tatars, Artists, Eurasia; Eugene Tan, Director, Singapore National Gallery, Singapore; Anton Vidokle, Artist and Founder of e-flux, New York-Berlin; Wong Hoy Cheong, Artist, George Town, Malaysia.

The panelist discussions were moderated by CÎMAM Board Members Elizabeth Ann MacGregor, Frances Morris and Kian Chow Kwok.

The conference program included visits to the National Art Center, Tokyo, the Mori Art Museum, the Museum of Contemporary Art Tokyo, the Hara Museum of Contemporary Art and the National Museum of Modern Art, Tokyo.

CÎMAM Annual Conference has been generously supported by Agency for Cultural Affairs under the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology Japan. Also by the Japanese National Committee for ICOM, Japanese Association of Museums, the Japanese Council of Art Museums, and the Japan Association of Art Museums. And in addition, the conference received the support from Ishibashi Foundation, Benesse Holdings, Inc., Fukutake Foundation, Shiseido Company, Limited, Dai Nippon Printing Co. Ltd., Nihon Kotsu Co. Ltd. and Yu-un.

A group of 52 delegates attended CÎMAM’s post-conference tour organized to Benesse Art Site, Naoshima and Hiroshima on 10 and 11 of November 2015. Visits included Teshima Yokoo House, Teshima Art Museum, the Art House Project and Chichu Art Museum, Benesse House Museum, Hiroshima Atomic Bomb Dome and Hiroshima City Museum of Contemporary Art. Accommodation, meals and admission fee at Teshima and Naoshima are kindly sponsored by Benesse Art Site Naoshima and Fukutake Foundation.

Please refer to the conference booklet available at cimam.org for the speakers' biographies, abstracts and more program details.

Travel Grant Program

Launched in 2005, CÎMAM’s Travel Grant Program is designed to foster cooperation and cultural exchange between contemporary art curators and museum directors in emerging and developing economies and their counterparts in other regions of the world. This allows a broader range of professionals to attend CÎMAM’s Annual Conference.

Over the years CÎMAM’s travel grantees have constituted a remarkable group of professionals who have later become important protagonists in today’s modern and contemporary art museums and collections. CÎMAM’s grantees may also become active members of this organization.

Since 2005 a total of 232 travel grant beneficiaries have been awarded support to attend CÎMAM Annual Conferences.
In 2015 CÎMAM offered 28 travel grants to modern and contemporary art museum and collection professionals residing in countries with Emerging Market and Developing Economies and professionals residing in Latin America and from South Korea.

The total amount received was €49,542.45 and was generously provided by:

The Getty Foundation, Los Angeles, offering 20 travel fellowships for professionals residing in countries with Emerging Market and Developing Economies.

The Fundación Cisneros/Colección Patricia Phelps de Cisneros offered 4 travel grants for professionals residing in Latin America with priority to Central America and the Caribbean.

The Gwangju Biennale Foundation supported the attendance of 4 contemporary art professionals from South Korea.

Every year we seek to increase the number of travel grants that CÎMAM can offer to contemporary art professionals from around the world to participate in the Annual Conferences.

CÎMAM’s website has dedicated a section exclusively to CÎMAM’s Travel Grant Program with extended information about its funders and beneficiaries since 2005.

The next CİMAM Annual Conference will take place from 18–20 November 2016. Around 250 delegates are expected to attend. The program, agenda and registration will be available in the coming months.
CÎMAM accounted 2015 and 2016 budget

CÎMAM’s total annual budget is one of the largest of the ICOM International Committees. CÎMAM is also one of the most active committees of ICOM and the only one to have its contributing members.

In 2015 CÎMAM’s total expenses have been of 134,067,70 € from which 60% have been dedicated to programs and services to CÎMAM Members.

The total costs of CÎMAM’s staff in 2015 have been of 60,964,65€. The operating office costs have been of €26,406,39.

The income generated from membership in 2015 has been lower than in 2014 because the fee corresponding to the second year of the triennial is also lower. However, the total amount doubles the fees collected during the same year of the previous triennial.
We can anticipate for 2016 a significant reduction of expenses related with the organization of the Annual Conference by being held in the same city where the office staff is located.

CIMAM plans for this triennial are to increase programs, activities and general visibility to raise the sufficient funds to become a fully sustainable organization.

CîMAM’s accounts are certified by an expert lawyer. The accountability complies with the standards set by the Plan General de Contabilidad (PGC), Spain, and the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

CîMAM keeps a file of all expenses, including receipts and invoices, which documents how the funds have been spent. CîMAM also keeps track of all income and cash flow in order to document the provenance of all funds. This information will be kept for a minimum of four years. We hereby certify that the above and attached statements are true and accurate.
